Dr. W. R. Boss
Scientific Attache
American Embassy
Tokyo, Japan

Dear Bob:

Just received your note of August 17 with newspaper clippings. I very much appreciate your sending such items to me and hope it wont be too much of a burden for you to continue.

Dr. Kempo Tsukamoto, who is, as you know, the new Institute of Radiological Sciences Director, was in my office yesterday. I told him about you. He had heard of you by report, and I hope you will meet each other soon. He has generally been quite helpful both to the Commission and the ABCC, and, of course, is a highly intelligent and importantly placed Japanese radiologist and clinician. I could learn nothing from him about the recent death of the Japanese on the scientific ship which supposedly had some fallout on it as he had not been back in the country for over a month. His only comment was that one of his secretaries had died of leukemia too.

Sincerely yours,
