Per your message, the breakdown for the $150,000 to be funded by NASA to DOE through the IAG (PR 10-86144) will be as follows:

$96,000 for support of Bruce Napier, Pacific Northwest Labs, for Project 1.1 (Population Dosimetry) work; and

$54,000 for support of the Urals Research Center for Radiation Medicine, Chelyabinsk, Russia for Project 1.1 work (Population Dosimetry).

This work will be carried out to support a joint Russian-American ongoing project, Population Dosimetry, under the purview of the Joint Coordinating Committee for Radiation Effects Research. The committee was established in 1994 to implement an agreement signed by then Secretary of State Warren Christopher and Russian Foreign Minister Andrey Kozyrev to collaborate in the area of joint radiation effects research.
